E. A. Prindle offers his 14-room, three-story residence at 35 Keith avenue for sale; would make a fancy rooming and boarding house or might be used for light housekeeping apartments. Will sell furnished if desired.—adv.

Clyde J. Lawless of 9 Kirk street has returned to the postoffice after a vacation of 18 days, which was spent at Lake Placid and Saranac Lake, N. Y. He visited in Albany, N. Y., and also with his mother, Mrs. Catherine Lawless, and sister, Clara, who are spending the summer at Laurel Park, Northampton, Mass.

Edwin Carleton and daughters and Lewis Birnie, who have just returned from a motor trip to Maine, report they found the roads in Vermont and New Hampshire fairly good but when they struck Maine the roads were rough until they reached Portland. From Portland on the roads were good and especially good macadam from Ogunquit through Rye to Little Bear's Head, a shore drive of more than 40 miles and a splendid run. The trip was made with a camp bungalow trailer, and they found the equipment very satisfactory. The trailer was quite heavily loaded when they started from Barre but there was no difficulty in drawing it over Orange heights and the long hill of Franconia Notch. The party covered more than 500 miles and found the trip comparatively inexpensive.

Free Inspection Service

Every man who owns an International Motor Truck has made an investment in two kinds of service—the transportation service he receives from his truck and the "after-sale" service with which the Company backs the truck. The two are inseparable.

It is not enough to have a truck built right—it must be kept right. For that reason all International Motor Trucks are inspected regularly by competent road engineers traveling out of our 92 Branch Houses. Every owner gets a complete report of the exact condition of his truck at regular intervals. This service is absolutely free.

It will pay you to know more about the scope and effectiveness of this service. We believe you will gain a totally new idea of just what low-cost hauling means for your business.

Miss Katherine Jordan of this city is to teach Latin in the Bradford high school again this year.

Charles M. Hawes of Elm street left this morning for Barton to spend a short time on business.

W. A. Lane has purchased a cottage at Caspian lake, Greensboro, and the family is there in camp.

Remember the dance at Greenwood lake pavilion Wednesday, Aug. 31. A good time. At Woodbury.—adv.

William F. Harvey of East street left yesterday for Sharon, where he intends to spend the week end at his camp.

Mrs. Mary Rhind of Hartford, Conn., is spending a few days at the home of her mother, Mrs. Anne Robertson, on Washington street.

Frank Miano of Granite street was one of those from Barre who attended the funeral of Raymond Gilman at Plainfield yesterday.

Big sale Monday and Tuesday at the Lynde farm in Williamstown; 70 head of extra fine cattle, farming tools and machinery, household goods, etc. Come early.—adv.

You cannot afford to miss the Wells Concert company Monday evening at 8 o'clock in Hedding Methodist church. Adults 35c, children under 10 years, 20c.—adv.

Fred Houghton of 125 East street returned yesterday from Cabot, where he has been spending a few days following the death of his young daughter, Madeline.

Miss Grace L. Bulkeley, former teacher of home economics at Goddard seminary, has been engaged to teach in the same course at People's academy in Morrisville the coming school year.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hall of Leon, Vt., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Graves on Cobble hill Wednesday. They will visit in Burlington and Montreal before returning to Leon.

Mrs. George G. Walker of 41 Keith avenue and Mrs. Robert Webster of 97 Washington street left Thursday morning for Montreal, from where they sailed to-day for Scotland. They plan to go to France and locate the grave of Mrs. Webster's son, Robert. They will also visit many parts of England, expecting to be gone about two and one-half months.

Laurence Campbell of North Main street acted as host to a large number of his friends at the Bolster farm in Westerville last night. A corn roast with all the hot stuff, followed by dancing, served in making the evening an enjoyable one. There was a decidedly green tinge to the crowd, both Dartmouth and U. V. M. being strongly represented.

An order has been issued by the district health officer, Dr. C. H. Burr, declaring the Papin livery stable at 26 1/2 North Main street to be a public nuisance and a menace to health and ordering the premises vacated as a livery stable and that no horses be kept there after Sept. 19, 1921; also that all animal waste and refuse must be removed and the premises kept in a sanitary condition thereafter. The order was served on both John Papin, keeper of the stable, and J. B. Sanquetti, the owner.

WATERBURY

At the Congregational church Sunday, the service will be in charge of the pastor, Rev. John C. Prince, who will have for the subject of the children's sermon, "Spoiling a Good Name." The sermon will be by Rev. William L. Boicourt, a former pastor, recently returned from service with the French Y. M. C. A. It is expected that a large number will avail themselves of this opportunity to hear him. Another pleasure will be an organ solo at the close of the service by Miss Mary Lease, who has recently returned from study in New York. Miss Lease will render "The Pilgrims' Chorus." At the Methodist Episcopal church, the pastor is attending the camp-meeting at Claremont Junction and Rev. J. W. Hatch, principal of Montpelier seminary, will preach.

At St. Andrew's church, mass and sermon will be by the pastor, Rev. Robert Devoy, at 8:30. He will also celebrate mass at Moretown at 11 o'clock.

Mrs. B. E. Wallace has returned from Queen City park, where she has been with her sister, Mrs. Della Ferguson.

Mrs. Stella Preston of the Wallace home is visiting in Northfield and Burlington.

Mrs. Karl Kellett, who is at the Mary Fletcher hospital, is improving. William Parks continues to improve. All are glad to see the staff members of their families and employees of the Vermont state hospital on the streets again, the quarantine which has been over the institution being raised yesterday.

Those interested in the flower exhibits will be glad to know that the committee were able to purchase, through the courtesy of E. M. Lyon, who made them a special price, six dozen vases of various sizes, which were used at the recent flower show. Even these six dozen were not enough to hold the variety and number of flowers exhibited. The committee was pleased to give the flowers at this time, both as exhibitors and workers, to the hospital aid committee to help them in their splendid work.

Through the columns of The Times, the flower show committee, under the auspices of the Barre Woman's club, wishes to thank the members of the American Legion for the use of their rooms for both flower shows, also for the many courtesies shown the workers and the visitors to the exhibits.

Facts Gleaned from the Flower Show. The Misses Robinson of Williamstown exhibited 18 different varieties of phlox.

Montpetrie is a bulbous plant. The Paul Negron rose exhibited by Dr. Jarvis had a stem three feet long.

For rare, beautiful things exhibited, credit must be given Mrs. C. H. Beckett of Williamstown.

H. A. Goodrich planted 10,000 gladioli bulbs.

E. M. Tobin has the greatest success with roses.

Globe thistle has a blue grey blossom, a rare color in the garden.

So pleasant to have Mr. Myrtle Bugbee working with us again among the flowers.

The tuberous-rooted begonias of Mrs. George McFarland are a beautiful sight.

Roses can be grown in Vermont, as proved by the rare blossoms shown by Mrs. Willard Martin of Plainfield.

The garden of Mrs. Leslie D. Gale has been a blaze of color all summer and a delight to passersby.

Why He Hesitated.

A scripture lesson was proceeding and having spoken about Heaven and the happy life all good little boys would lead after they died, the Sunday school teacher said:

"Now, will all the little boys who wish to go to Heaven please stand up." All the little boys in the class stood up with the exception of Leonard.

"And don't you want to go to Heaven Leonard?" the teacher asked kindly.

Leonard was a boy who always told the truth.

His Trade Secret.

The court (during bankruptcy proceedings)—Kindly inform the court how you managed to keep your credit open.

Defendant—Certainly. But allow me to suggest that I impart this information behind closed doors. There are several of my competitors present and I have no desire to teach them the secret.—Christiania Karikaturen.
